

Nervous but Excited (Kate Peterson & Sarah Cleaver) a pleasantly aggressive folk duo from Michigan, is not afraid to sing loud and sing hard! NBE is two songwriters, two singers, two guitars, a mandolin, a violin, a few harmonicas, a barrel of harmony, some vaguely choreographed dancing and a lot of laughter. The sensitive tug of their voices can pull you through worlds of progressive politics, and their harmonies have been described as the kind that build so smoothly until suddenly they start to shake your insides. They are not just looking for audiences to play to. They are looking for audiences to sing to. To laugh with. To appreciate. To breathe in and to take home.
